CHANGES IN METHODIST PULPITS

Methodist Appointments For Next Term Announced At Morganfield. Rev. J. A. Walker Sent To Cloverport; Rev. Frank E. Lewis To South Scottsville; Rev. May To Irvington

REV. LEWIS' MOTHER DIES

The Louisville conference of the Methodist church adjourned at Morganfield Monday after the reading of appointments. There were few changes.

The Rev. Mr. Frank E. Lewis, who has been pastor of the Cloverport church for two years, was changed to South Scottsville. Rev. Mr. Lewis was called away from conference on account of the death of his mother. He received several telegrams about her condition before he left for Morganfield and as soon as he arrived there her condition became worse, and he left at once for Athens, Ga., to be at her bedside. Information was received here that the body would be brought to Kentucky for burial.

The new pastor for Cloverport comes from Sonora, Ky. He is married and has two children, a daughter twelve years and a son nine years.

A. B. Skillman, of this city, attended the conference and stated that everyone had a delightful time. Morganfield's hospitality was lavished on the ministers and guests. Mr. Skillman, himself, enjoyed the conference thoroughly.

New Car For Cloverport

Cloverport will take pride in boasting of a new automobile this week when O. T. Skillman of the Breckenridge Bank returns from Louisville Friday with a new machine. He has bought a Stanley Steamer car which will be something new in this part of the country. Mr. Skillman will attend the banker's convention.

Dave Duncan Mentioned.

Now that George Casperke, the hustling Democratic leader of Meade county, has accepted a fine business offer to go South, which eliminates him as a prospective candidate for the nomination for State Senator in the Meade-Hancock Breckenridge district, it is said that Dave Duncan, the popular editor of the Brandenburg Messenger, will become a candidate in due time. By the customary rotation it's Meade county's time to furnish the Senator. Dave is a true and loyal Democrat, and his friends declare he would make a good Senator.—Louisville Times.

Barton-LaHeist

Marriage Announcement.

Friends and relatives in this city appreciated the marriage announcement received as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barton announce the marriage of their daughter, Elsie Tompkins, to Al Henden LaHeist, on September twenty-six, Greeley, Colorado.

Mr. Payne Re-Enlists.

Esmer B. Payne, who has been in with Uncle Sam for the past three years, came back to spend a two weeks' vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Payne, and friends. He returned to Columbus, Ohio a few days ago where he re-enlisted for three more years. The young man's father is a lucky old soldier, being 75 years old and has three boys in government service.—Harned Correspondent.

OFFICE OF CHAIRMAN

Breckenridge County

Democratic Campaign Committee

HARDINSBURG, KY., October 1, 1912.

To Breckenridge County Democrats:

Having been chosen to lead Democracy's fight in our county, I feel the responsibility and it is my ambition and hope that we may roll up a substantial majority for our candidates on November the fifth. I realize that the result, however, will depend upon the co-operation that we receive from our democrats, and especially those of the committees, in and on whom I have placed the responsibility in the precincts. These associates and I are but your agents and we desire every democrat to feel that he is an active participant in this great National battle for Democracy and right. Let me here remind you that overconfidence is dangerous. Let our county do well its part and our ambition will be converted into pride.

I earnestly invite the attention of democrats, and all of the people, to the issues of this most important campaign as represented by the Democratic Platform and presented by our standard bearer, the learned, fearless and clean progressive, Governor Woodrow Wilson. If the people desire to rule, they must work and vote; our leaders have done well their part and deserve now our aggressive support. For the merit and distinction of his helpful services, the constituents of our able Congressman, Hon. Ben Johnson, owe to him the compliment of a magnificent majority in November. Let us also remember that the showing our county makes this fall may have a decided bearing on the races for county offices next year. Let's merit all the assistance possible to be received.

If we are really democrats, with modern progressive spirit and tendencies, let's prove it. How? Join the county Wilson and Marshall Club, attend the Campaign Opening and Rally in Hardinsburg on October 14th, contribute to the expenses of this campaign, see that every democrat around you gets to the polls, and vote yourself; then you will be entitled to great credit as an active democrat, and will have contributed materially to the reinauguration of democratic administration of our nation's affairs and a return to proper equality in government.

Our 2400 fighting democrats are entitled to some of the honor and offices that the great national victory in prospect will necessarily bring. Politics is essentially reciprocal, and one thing is sure, no man who fails to do his duty before this election need apply to me for indorsement for any position. If those higher up are as good party men as they should be, I will be upheld. No organization can succeed without rewarding only its faithful. Henceforth, if this principle is not observed toward our organization, I shall sever my official relation with it. Honor and office to whom they are justly due.

Heavy legitimate expenses will be incurred in our campaign and rally including band, banners, printing, stamps, etc. Our rally on October 14th promises to be local democracy's banner day. Speakers of national and state reputation will address, we hope, one of the largest assemblages of democrats in the history of the county. In addition to the expenses of the local campaign and rally, we have to meet a heavy assessment for state and national purposes. The people are financing this campaign, without corporate aid, and we will receive no assistance from state or national headquarters. Breckenridge must do her part. Ten of us subscribed $25.00 each, and we depend upon you for the remainder. I believe in publicity in campaign matters. I have, therefore, declined to handle the financial end of the campaign myself, as has been the custom, and, instead, have appointed Mr. John D. Shaw Campaign Treasurer. The receipts and disbursements of campaign funds will go through the Farmers Bank as any other account, paid by check on the Treasurer, and subject to public inspection.

Believing that the heart of every local democrat beats with pride and hope, when we review the recent conduct and accomplishments of our party in state and nation, and asserting my faith in your united support of our efforts in the campaign of 1912, I am,

For Democratic success, and those who bring it about,

Very respectfully,

HENRY DeHAVEN MOORMAN,

Chairman Breckenridge County Executive and Campaign Committees.

May's Colt Show.

J. R. Mays held his colt show at Webster Saturday. There was a good bunch of colts in the ring, and the judges were some time deciding where to place the ribbons. Andy Board, colored, captured the blue with a $10 cash premium, and John Lyddan the red and $5 cash premium. Wm. Hall's mule colt got the $8 premium. The sire of the horse colts, Oscar, is an imported coach horse and cost $2,500 to import. He is now 12 years old and for sale. Mr. Mays wants to retire from the business.

Give Best Assistance.

The Modern Woodmen of America gathered at Mrs. Essie Bandy's place, near Irvington, Thursday and cut the corn for her. Mr. Bandy died last April. He was a Modern Woodman and had a thousand dollars insurance. Besides Mrs. Bandy receiving the money from this order, she is the recipient of every attention from the members, who look after the widows and children of their deceased brothers.

Happy Young Mother.

Mrs. Mary Keenan is the young mother of five children, the oldest being nine and the youngest four days old. Mrs. Keenan is twenty-seven years old, and the grand-daughter of the late J. D. Wilson, of Cloverport. She is the mother of all mothers, she has all her cares alone. She has missed but few work days this summer, raised a good garden, large tobacco crop, canned 30 gallons of fruit besides house work. That is quite a task and yet this fine boy baby which is now four days old weighs 9 pounds and has been named Charles Virgil Keenan.

Mr. and Mrs. Keenan are proud young parents, and the writer is bound to say both are hustling young folk. L. C. Taul says it's the place to stop for good grub, and a fine place to be treated the very best.

Written by a friend that knows them well and wishes all success.

Win Prizes At Memphis.

Won 14 first premiums, 6 seconds and 3 thirds; 4 championships and 2 grand championships and one cup here.—Walter J. Moorman, Jr., Memphis, Tenn.

A Million Hames.

Thos. Smith says his company, the Tell City Hame Factory, is operating 25 sawmills between Leavenworth and Lewisport, getting out hame timber. They want stock for a million hames.

JACKSON-SIMMONS

Miss Esther Mae Jackson And Mr. Joe Simmons Married Last Wednesday Afternoon. Ceremony Performed By The Rev. Mr. Powell.

Miss Esther Mae Jackson and Mr. Joe Simmons were united in marriage last Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. The ceremony took place in the parlors of The Wittmer Hotel at Cannelton, Ind., the Rev. Mr. Powell, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated. Among those present were Mrs. Wm. Hoffous and Miss Carrie Tucker, of this city. The bride wore a stylish tailor-made suit of tan material, with a becoming hat and gloves to match. The bodice of the dress was of lovely material of the same shade.

Mrs. Simmons is the daughter of Mrs. Viola Jackson. Saturday, September the twenty-first, when she resigned her position with The Breckenridge News, she had been at the office eight years. She started to work for Mr. Babbage when she was not much more than a child, and she was certainly faithful to her tasks and was very efficient. The News office was like home to her. The young bride has all the good wishes of the staff.

Mr. Simmons is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simmons and is a young railroad man, with a splendid future before him. He has a place now as fireman on the Henderson Route.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons were entertained at the Satterfield home and at his parents' home during the last week. They will board with Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffous.

BISHOP M'COY

Presides at the Annual Methodist Louisville Conference at Morganfield--Large Attendance Present--Homes Opened to Ministers.

Morganfield, Ky., Sept. 26.—Bishop J. H. McCoy, of Birmingham, Ala., opened the first session of the Louisville Conference yesterday morning with some pointed and striking remarks on the trend of modern thought as it affects the church. "An evil," he declared, "which abounds today, almost world wide, is the materialistic grip. It dominates all social and religious life. The idea is prevalent that the universe is governed by impersonal laws, and the personal Christ is left out. The resurrected Christ is being eliminated. The need of the hour is for the church to catch a new vision of the risen and triumphant Head of the church. Not a Christ of Galilean humiliation, but the high, priestly Christ, glorious in power."

Dr. E. G. B. Mann, of Lexington, editor of the Central Methodist Advocate, preached to a great audience in the afternoon. An old-time Methodist scene followed. At 7:30 p. m. Dr. Ed. F. Cook, for many years president of the Deaconess Training School, of Nashville, Tenn., delivered the address at the missionary anniversary. His theme was one calculated to bring the subject of home missions before the Conference in a new and striking light.

Returns To Illinois Home.

Miss Bertha Walls returned to her home in Springfield, Ill., last evening. She was accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. John Burn and daughter, Miss Edith Burn, who will visit the Walls' home two weeks. Miss Walls is the niece of Mr. Burn and has been here since early last spring. She is very popular among the young girls and boys here and it is like giving up a "home girl" to see her leave. She entered into all their pleasures and her attractive personality was delightful to all who met her.

I am glad to think
I'm not bound to make the world go right;
But only to discover and to do
With cheerful heart the work that God appoints.
I will trust in Him
That He can hold His own; and I will take
His will above the work He sendeth me
To be my chiefest good.
The glory is not in the task, but in the doing it for Him.

—Jean Ingelow
